

Ranjana Iyer is a practicing lawyer and has over three decades of experience and expertise as a senior litigator and has handled a vast variety of commercial disputes. She has appeared before courts and tribunals in matters relating to intellectual property laws, immigration laws and arbitrations and has also worked as a legal advisor to a group of companies in Muscat, Sultanate of Oman. Ranjana has, at times, donned the cap of an educator when she was invited as guest lecturer in business laws at Wigan and Leigh College, Bangalore. She is a member of the International Federation of Women Lawyers and of FICCI Ladies Organisation (FLO).